Subvention Grant

Value: Up to $1,500

Due Date: On a rolling basis until funds are depleted

Description:
The IHR will make available a limited number of grants up to $1,500 to assist only full-time tenured and tenure-track ASU humanities faculty with subvention costs for single-authored and co-authored works in any language, including creative works (novels, books of essays or poetry). These grants are designed to support those whose publishers make an explicit requirement of subvention funding.

Eligible expenses also include those that, if not funded, would prevent the publication from going forward, such as extraordinary printing costs for:

- Illustrations
- Maps
- Cover art
- Indexing or copyright permissions, and rights.

Ineligible expenses include:

- Costs for publishing textbooks
- Costs for hiring an outside editor

Criteria for the grants include:

- Publisher's request for subvention (please include an email in your application)
- Stature of the press
- Scholarly record of the applicant (please include your CV)

Application Instructions:
Combine the following in a single, signed PDF and submit to ihr@asu.edu, with the subject line: ‘SUBVENTION APPLICATION’

- Author’s statement about the significance of the publication or creative work to their career and field; list past IHR subvention support, if applicable (1 page)
- Applicant’s CV
- Information about the press, including names and book titles of its 2-3 leading authors
- Documents from the press:
  o Acceptance letter for the manuscript
  o Written policy about or stated requirement for subvention funding Applications will be considered by the IHR’s executive committee. Anticipated response time: 2-3 weeks.

Terms & Conditions:
Recipients of grants must agree to:

- Recognize the IHR’s support in the acknowledgments section of the book
- Provide the IHR with a copy of the published book for the IHR Library
